HOW TO DEAL WITH CANNON IS QUESTION

Senators Now Await Return Of Chairman Of Lobby Probers

Washington, June 6—(AP)—Awaiting the return of Chairman Caraway from Arkansas, the puzzled Senate lobby investigators today pondered the question of what to do with Bishop James Cannon, Jr., for refusing to answer question and for walking out on the committee.

Senator Walsh, Montana the acting chairman said no action would be taken until Caraway reaches Washington. He was reported yesterday to be enroute to the Capital but his office received a telegram from him today from Jonesboro, Arkansas, his home.

The lobby chairman had an engagement to speak tonight at Dexter, Missouri, and it was not known here whether the address had been cancelled. His telegram did not mention returning.

For two days Cannon refused to answer questions concerning his 1928 political activities against the presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith and yesterday climaxed his defiance by walking from the committee room while being examined.

Sinclair Sent To Jail
Speaking over his shoulder as he clutched his crutch, he informed the committee that if they wished to subpoena him he would be at his office.

Walsh described the action as plain contempt of the Senate but would not indicate what procedure he thought should be taken.

The Montana also holds the opinion the Bishop's refusal to answer questions constituted contempt. Consideration was being given to a plan to ask the Senate to specify that the committee could inquire into political activities. Walsh contends the committee already has this authority.

Cannon is supported by Caraway in maintaining the committee was not empowered to inquire into political activities.

It was refusal to answer a question before a Senate committee that sent Harry P. Sinclair to jail. In other cases recalcitrant witnesses have been reprimanded and at other times no action has been taken.

ATTACKED BY LAYMAN

Memphis, Tenn., June 6—(UP)—G. T. Fitzhugh, prominent lay member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and one of the leaders in the fight against Bishop James Cannon, Jr., at the Dallas convention, attacked the Bishop today for "walking out of the Senate Lobby committee hearing."

"Bishop Cannon set an evil example of scoffing at the law and defying constituted authority" by his action before the committee, Fitzhugh said. "Audacious and reckless in slandering others, Cannon quails before any serious investigation of charges against himself, when required to meet them with sworn testimony instead of ex-parte statements to the press."

SENATORS GET LAUGH

Washington, June 6—(UP)—The Senate was thrown into confusion and laughter today when Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.) read a letter signed "Sally Gamble" demanding that Norris get her husband out of jail because he "only gambled on the stock market as did Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and chairman Claudius Houston of the Republican National Committee."

"The letter," purporting to have come from Texas, bore no address, and Senator Heflin, Dem., Ala., immediately demanded to know what Senator had written it, charging inferentially that it was spurious.

The letter, dated June 2, 1930, purported to come from "Crooks Roads, Texas." No such place is listed in the official postal guide.

The letter said the husband "Joe Gamble" was sent to the penitentiary because he bought options on stock with other people's money and the stocks went down instead of up.

It asked Norris to "get Joe out of the pen because he did no more than Bishop Cannon, although he is just as good a Methodist, and no more than Mr. Huston, although he is 'Joe' in the pen but the Bishop just as good a Republican.

able to defy the United States Senate and still retain his high position in the church."

During the reading of the letter, Senators laughed aloud and several times Vice President Curtis rapped his gavel for order. Only Norris kept a straight face throughout. Sen-

KIDNAPERS ARE GIVEN TWENTY YEARS BY JURY

Weyland Brooks, Former Dixon Boy, Successful Prosecutor

Chicago, June 6—(UP)—Motions for new trials were drafted today by counsel for three defendants sentenced to 20 years imprisonment for the kidnaping of Theodore Kopelman, wealthy insurance broker whose sister paid $4500 ransom for his release. The motions will be heard June 14 and until that time the bond for the three has been doubled to $50,000 each.

A Criminal Court jury returned a verdict of guilty last night against the trio, Seymour Peller, 23, Samuel Gold, 24, and Norman Resnick, 23.

The defense had maintained Kopelman plotted his own kidnaping in order to obtain money from his sister, Gertrude Kopelman.

Resnick was revealed during the trial as a suitor of Kopelman's divorced wife, Myrtle Thoren Kopelman, who is under an indictment charging her with conspiracy to commit extortion in connection with the kidnaping.

Kopelman was kidnaped on Feb. 28 while on the way from his home to his office. He was held at a resort near Trevor, Wis., until the $4500 was paid three days later.

Gertrude Kopelman's name was linked up during the trial with that of Nickey Arnsperg, former husband of Fannie Price. She said she was satisfied with the verdict.

Judge H. B. Miller said he was "entirely in sympathy" with the verdict.

Widow Of Theatrical Producer Is In Jail

New York, June 6—(UP)—Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, widow of the late theatrical producer, was found guilty of vagrancy in Jefferson Market court today despite her contention that she was "framed" by policemen.

She was remanded to jail to await sentence. Mrs. Hammerstein was found guilty by Magistrate Earl Smith after he had denied defense attorneys plea to re-open the case so new testimony could be submitted. An appeal is expected.

Mrs. Hammerstein was arrested May 12 by Patrolman John McHugh who testified that she had accepted $30 in her room in the hotel Winthrop. She testified that McHugh gained entrance under false pretenses by pretending he was a man sent by her banker to lend her $500. Mrs. Hammerstein said she accepted the $30 under protest as an advance payment on the $500 loan.

Two sailors were arrested but forfeited $50 in bonds in police court. They gave their names as L. A. Newton and Athol B. Williams.

Police said the riot started when a Negro woman knocked out one sailor and seriously injured the second. Within an hour more than 200 sailors in the district. Later 350 Coast Guardsmen joined the Navy men.

Police restored order after several hours of effort. Besides Newton and Williams, 14 sailors were arrested in a speakeasy.

DIXON WOMAN AND CITY ARE CENTURY OLD

Mrs. Mary Lord Has Lived 92 Years of Her Life in Dixon

It is a far cry from the days when deer and buffalo roamed the Illinois prairies, when the only mode of travel was the bark canoe of the painted savage or the lumbering covered wagon of the intrepid pioneer, to modern times with our radio, Graf Zeppelins, and great cities, but Mrs. Mary Louise Warner Lord of Dixon has seen the Illinois wilderness in its rawest state and still lives in this Rock River valley city that was founded just 100 years ago.

Dixon will this year celebrate its 100th anniversary, a century of growth and progress, and it is therefore especially interesting to note that there lives in this city a pioneer resident of this community, who on June 16 will be 100 years of age. For 92 years of this century Mrs. Lord has lived in this community.

Born in Massachusetts.

On June 16th, 1830, the year that Dixon was officially founded, Moses M. and Orrel (Smith) Warner welcomed a baby daughter in their home at Barre, Massachusetts. Eight years later the Warners decided to emigrate to the newly-opened Illinois territory, still a vast wilderness. Covered wagons carried them to the Great Lakes, ships brought them to Chicago and the oxen-drawn wagons resumed their tortuous advance over the primitive trails of the early days.

Arriving at Dixon when the present city was a mere trading post and ferry station with a few cabins on the river bank, Mr. Warner cast about for suitable farm land and wisely chose a tract in the fertile rolling slopes of what is now Palmyra township. The first winter the Warner family spent in the log cabin on Rock River near Albion's Springs, west of Dixon and Mr. Warner built a home on his land at the spot now known as Rutti's hill.

The Wetherbee family, who had joined fortunes with the Warners on the migration from the east, settled near Prairieville.

Traded Shoes For Land.

Before coming west Mr. Warner had invested some of his funds in a quantity of shoes. Shoes were cheap in Massachusetts but were an expensive commodity in the Illinois wilderness. He had a huge "grandfather's clock" and he packed it full of the valuable shoes and brought them safely over the long trail and realized enough for them to pay for a part of the government land that he took up. His land cost him $125 an acre.

Schools Were Scarce.

There were no country schools in those days, but Mrs. Wetherbee gave the few children of the community lessons at her home for a time and later Mary Louise came to Dixon and stayed with relatives while she attended school. She also went to a school in Sterling for a time, when she was older.

At the age of 21 Mary Louise Warner was married to John L. Lord, son of another pioneer family who had come to this community at about the same time. It is interesting to note that although the two families did not meet enroute from their eastern homes, part of the household goods of the Lord family was shipped on the same boat that carried the Warners through the Great Lakes.

John Lord's father had established a blacksmith shop in a little grove building on the top of a big hill west of Dixon which has been known for nearly a century as "Lord's Hill." Later the Lords developed a wagon building shop and under the direction of young John Lord a wagon and buggy building factory of considerable importance flourished there.

The wedding of John Lord and Mary Louise Warner took place on June 17th, 1851, and a notice of the wedding was chronicled in The Dixon Telegraph, which had been established only a few weeks before.

Mr. and Mrs. Lord built a beautiful home on the top of the hill and Mr. Lord devoted himself to his wagon building industry, manufacturing fine and sturdy vehicles of every description. One of his products, a light sulky, was shipped to George Page in Switzerland. Mr. Lord died March 15, 1901, just a short time before his golden wedding anniversary.

He was a splendid character, revered throughout the community. He was of the type of man who conquered and built this new western empire.

PRESIDENT OF PACKING FIRM NOW ACCUSED

Charged With Plotting Murder Of Company Vice President

Topeka, Kas., June 6—(AP)—Discovery that a tire which Roy Kramer, packing company vice president, apparently was mending when killed March 26, was undamaged led to the arrest yesterday of L. H. Kimmel, president of the firm, on a charge of murder.

Kramer's body was found stretched in front of his automobile near a wheel supported by a jack, along a highway near Topeka. Police assumed he had been killed by a passing automobile until they noticed the tire had not been punctured.

An investigation ended yesterday when Virgil Pointer, Kimmel's handy man, was alleged to have confessed he killed Kramer at the packing company's executive's suggestion.

Pointer was quoted by police as saying he ambushed Kramer on a stairway of his home, struck him with a club, and drove with the body to the place on the highway where it was found the next day. In his purported confession he said he forgot to puncture the tire to deceive investigators.

Kimmel, who has a wife and five children, pleaded not guilty and was released on $25,000 bond. Pointer was held in default of bond.

The packing company collected $30,000 insurance upon the death of its vice president.

EVANGELIST IS CONVICTED OF ABDUCTING GIRL

Rev. A. L. Shoemaker Of Alton, Ill. Faces Prison Term

Alton, Ill., June 6—(UP)—The Rev. A. L. Shoemaker, evangelist, was found guilty by a jury in City Court today on a charge of abducting Miss Bernice Ford 19-year-old member of his choir.

The minimum sentence possible is one year in prison.

The jury had been out since yesterday afternoon, when it returned its verdict at 10:20 A. M. today.

The evangelist, who has been conducting revival meetings at Nutwood, Ill., at night during the trial, was charged with having induced the pretty choir singer to make a trip into Missouri with him.

The Rev. Shoemaker heard the verdict without emotion and said he would appeal. Meanwhile, he announced, he would continue his evangelistic meetings.

Miss Ford charged that the Rev. Shoemaker promised he would divorce his wife and marry her after the trip.

The evangelist still faces two other charges of abduction. He is accused of taking two girl saxophone players from his church orchestra on a trip to Florida last year.

Polo Farm Barn Is Destroyed By Fire

(Telegraph Special Service)
Polo, Ill., June 6—(A large barn on the Louis Young farm, eight miles east of Polo on the Polo-Oregon road, was destroyed by fire Thursday evening, the fire probably being caused by spontaneous combustion in fifteen tons of alfalfa hay, stored in the mow. Considerable machinery was saved from the lower floor, the loss in addition to the building, consisting of the hay, a number of chickens, a wagon and two sets of harness. The loss is estimated at $3,000, partially covered by insurance. During the fire, which raged for about an hour, other buildings on the farm caught fire, but the flames were extinguished before they caused additional damage.

Amboy has for some time boasted a chapter and a large delegation is expected from that city. Invitations have been sent out to many other chapters in this locality.

MANY OBJECTIONS FILED

Almost a thousand tax objections cases appear upon the docket of Judge William Leech in the county court today, and the indications point to the number possibly exceeding that record before the calling of the docket. The vast volume of objections to the "illegal tax" has made it necessary for the court to order a new docket in order to care for the list.

To date 760 individual objections have been filed in the county court and another local attorney has indicated to Judge Leech that he represents at least 150 objectors who will contest the tax rate of last year. Judge Leech will call the docket list of cases starting next Monday morning, June 9 at 10 o'clock setting the cases for trial.

Failed To Identify Veteran As Robber

Battle Creek, Mich., June 6—(AP)—Witnesses of the $363,000 robbery last fall of the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Jefferson, Wis., today failed to identify John Conley, 30-year-old patient of the United States Veterans hospital at Camp Custer, as one of the robbers.

Conley was arrested yesterday by state police and taken to jail from the hospital. The witnesses today said he was much smaller than any of the robbers, one of whom is believed to have been Fred Burke, Chicago gangster. The persons who viewed Conley were Sheriff John C. Gruel of Jefferson County, Wis.; Henry Kising, a butcher who has a shop across from the bank, and W. S. Kispert, assistant cashier of the bank.

More than $300,000 of the loot was recorded last winter in Burke's home near St. Joseph, Mich., when he fled after killing a St. Joseph policeman.

SEED PACKAGE

I CAN sell you wonder
For a thin and silver dime!
I can sell you magic
For the coming summertime!
Here within these envelopes
So tiny, slender, slim,
Enough for glory hidden
Enough for serenity;
Gay and gold gaudia
And canterbury bell
To swing a swaying melody
For fay feet in a dell.
Here are fluted hollyhocks
Forget-me-not and rue,
Calendula and moon-loved phlox
Larkspur, and cornflower blue.
I can give you wonder
For a round and little dime
I can bring enchantment
To the coming summertime.

Potter Palmer 'Castle' Receives the Curious

BY WALTER BROWN

Chicago, June 6—(AP)—The door of the Potter Palmer "Castle" or the Gold Coast, one of the few remaining show places of the gorgeous and haughty '20's and '30's, opened today to the feet of the curious commoners.

After a two-day society charity benefit, to which a signboard bids "everybody welcome," the building will be given over to the wreckers. An apartment hotel will take its place.

Potter Palmer, an early mercantile prince and inn keeper, built the old home on Lake Shore Drive during the 1880's. Few were welcome to the "castle" and only those the socially elect, during the more than 40 years that followed. There it stood in its early days, as austere and aloof as the stately chateaux who ruled it, and the society she reigned over three decades. Mrs. Palmer was the only social dictator of Chicago's elite.

Mrs. Palmer, who died in 1918, also maintained homes in Paris and London. Her place in European social circles was as firmly fixed as in Chicago.

Modernity has effected few changes in the old home. It remains as Mrs. Palmer left it, heavy with tapestries, lined with suits of armor and dotted with busts of ancient and noble Romans.

Potter Palmer, Jr., was the last of the family to live in the "Castle." When he sold it to Vincent Bendix, head of a manufacturing concern, he specified he would continue to occupy it until the senior Mrs. Palmer's granddaughter, Bertha, could make her debut there. That was an event of last winter. Bertha is assisting with the charity benefit.

Even the last affair at the "Castle" has a touch of aloofness; only the downstairs rooms are open to the benefit's patrons.

Delightful Rosebud Shower For Miss Richardson

Last evening the Misses Lillian, Clara and Florence Koerper were hostesses at a very charming rosebud shower honoring Miss LaFerne Richardson, who is soon to become the bride of Earl Helms of Sterling.

The home was prettily decorated with roses and peonies. The early part of the evening was spent in playing bridge. Miss Lola Gleissner was awarded the favor for high score and Mrs. Dale Cooper was awarded the consolation favor, while Miss Richardson was presented with a very dainty guest favor, the favors all being in harmony with the rosebud effect. The guests then were invited to the spacious dining room which was beautifully decorated with roses, and pink and white streamers which wound their way to the beautiful center piece of rose colored lights above the table, from which hung a mass of pink and white streamers amongst which were hidden some tiny pink cupids.

The snowy white table was artistically decorated with pink tapers, and rose petals were scattered over the entire table, the center piece consisting of pink roses and cupids. The guests enjoyed much merriment while Miss Richardson drew the cupids, one at a time, from the centerpiece which hung over the table, each cupid bearing a message of where a gift was hidden, the gifts all being hidden at various places about the home. The guests departed at a late hour leaving with Miss Richardson their best wishes for happiness. Everyone present will long have memories of a most delightful evening.

Awarded First Prize to Ethel Cline in the Essay Contest on "Benefits of Drinking Pasteurized Milk."

FIRST PRIZE ESSAY:

ESSAY ON BENEFITS OF DRINKING PASTEURIZED MILK
Pasteurized Milk is the most perfect food we have. It has sugar and fats which supply heat and energy for the body.

It has mineral salts that build up the bones, teeth, blood, brain and nervous system, and keep the body in generally good condition.

Milk is the one universal food that is essential to everyone's diet from infancy to old age. You can substitute eggs for meat—one vegetable for another, but nothing takes the place of milk.

Every child should have a quart of milk every day and every adult should have a pint of milk every day to keep their bodies in repair.

Pasteurized Milk is the purest and healthiest milk to use. It is handled in a very sanitary way.

The bottles are washed thoroughly by an electric machine after being brought back from the customers.

Pasteurized Milk is milk which has been heated to 145 degrees F., kept at that temperature thirty minutes, cooled rapidly to 45 degrees F. and sealed in sterile bottles.

All the harmful bacteria are killed and lactic acid bacteria are killed in pasteurization.

WOMEN'S CLUB FEDERATION OPENS 20TH BIENNIAL MEET

Denver, Co., June 5—(U. P.)—A multitude of subjects awaited consideration today by the twentieth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Addresses, discussions and committee reports on 125 human interests and problems were included on the program for the nine-day assembly of the federation, opening tonight.

Maternity and infancy, child welfare, prohibition, problems of the home, international relations, public welfare and many other interests will come in for their part in the discussions of how best a woman can serve her community and her nation.

Fifteen hundred official delegates and hundreds of other women visitors are expected to be present in Denver municipal auditorium when the first session is called to order.

Every state and territory of the United States and 19 foreign countries will be represented.

A brief address of welcome by Mrs. C. H. Morlan, Denver, chairman of the Biennial Board, will open the gathering. Mrs. John F. Sippel, Baltimore, General Federation president, will give the response.

The entire program of the organization, working as an international federation, is to be reviewed at the business sessions starting tomorrow with committees and special officers telling of the work of the past two years.

Plans then will be laid for the coming two years. Here these women will determine the stand of a membership of 4,000,000 other women upon the vital problems of the day.

Almost without exception the member clubs of the federation are expected to support absolute dry law enforcement.

The sentiment in recent times, during the prominence of the prohibition issue, has been expressed by Mrs. Sippel, an outstanding dry, whose candidacy for reelection is expected to be unopposed.

Maternity and infancy legislation now pending before congress will be supported vigorously during the coming two years.

Objectives of the federation generally are achieved by quiet educational campaigns. It is only on issues of urgency, officials declare, that they use more direct methods.

The national and international organization of women's clubs is duplicated in the states and in individual communities.

The work is divided into eight departments, citizenship, the home, education, fine arts, international relations, legislation, public welfare, and press and publicity.

Each of these departments is further subdivided until in all 125 phases of human life have their committees for study and research.

An inclusive program of extra-convention activities has been arranged during the nine days the delegates and visitors are here.

June 11 has been set aside exclusively as "play day" for the delegates. This will be featured by a circle trip through the Denver Mountain Parks system.

Present officers of the federation are: Mrs. John F. Sippel, Baltimore, Md., president; Mrs. Grace Morrison Foote, Brockton, first vice-president; Mrs. Eugene B. Lawson, Tulsa, Oklahoma, second vice-president; Mrs. Henry C. Taylor, Bloomfield, La., secretary, and Mrs. H. G. Reynolds, Paducah, Ky., treasurer.

THE DAYS OF BRUTALITY.

If you have numbered among your ancestors an old-time sailingship mate—a "bucko mate" of the old days—it might be well for you to go out to the cemetery and have a look at his grave. The chances are that he has recently turned over in it.

The reason for this lies in an obscure little news item that may have escaped your attention altogether; a story telling how the United States supreme court the other day upheld the award of $12,000 to a sailor, who had sued the steamship company that employed him because a petty officer knocked him down with a monkey wrench.

This sailor was struck and floored because he was late in coming on watch. He sued and won his $12,000; the company appealed the case, claiming that the occurrence was simply a brawl common among seamen and not a thing for which the company could be held liable. The supreme court turned the appeal down, and the sailor will get his money.

So, we repeat—the graves of the old-time mates of the days of square sail had better be inspected. For if there is anything on earth that would make one of those old ruffians turn over in his last resting place it would be the news that a ship's officer can no longer knock down a sailor at will.

Our old traditions seem to be passing fast. None was ever better entrenched than this tradition of brutality at sea. While American sailing ships were winning fame for speed and seaworthiness all over the world, they were also becoming notorious among sailors everywhere for abuse and hard treatment. It was common to speak of an American ship as a "hell wagon." To discipline a crew with fists, belaying pins and sea boots, all applied freely where they would do the most good, was known as giving them "Yankee music."

This brutality was closely interwoven with the American record at sea. A man who shipped before the mast in an American ship, especially in the latter days of sail, when expenses were pared to the bone, crews small and crimps shanghaied the witless dregs of the waterfront to serve as able seamen, expected to be kicked and walloped. The prime function of the mate was to rule with an iron hand, and he generally did it with a whole-souled earnestness.

There was one tradition whose passing no one need lament. The American sailor today gets decent quarters, decent food, decent pay and decent treatment. His officers have no greater privileges than the foremen in industrial plants ashore, which is as it should be. If a sailor is struck he can get damages. The hard-boiled era of "the glorious days of sail" has died forever, and it is a good thing.

FOODS FOR A TRAVELER.

A recent United Press dispatch from New York presents some interesting statistics on sectional preferences in food in the United States.

Corned beef hash, it develops, is New York's most popular restaurant dish. Philadelphia's favorite is, of course, scrapple. New Orleans diners like their food highly seasoned. In the middle west the reverse is true. Minnesota goes for steaks in a big way. California is extremely fond of salads. Boston baked beans are popular everywhere, although the eating of them has become a Saturday night ritual nowhere but in their native city.

Travelers often complain that American cooking is too standardized; but there are still sectional preferences and local favorites. The traveler who takes pains to inquire about these local dishes and ask for them can still enjoy considerable variety as he goes about the country.

An editorial writer sees injustice in the arrest of a Montana woman for "indulging in peals of laughter in the streets." Maybe the police thought that she'd die laughing.

The fashion expert who declared that members of the English Parliament looked like plumbers probably doesn't realize that many of them have Orders of the Bath.

"There's my biggest scoop of the year," said the cub reporter warmly as the soda fountain clerk dropped a generous ball of ice cream in his plate.

With the discovery of fake art masterpieces in Paris, it seems that the United States is not the only country where oil swindles are perpetrated.

A prize fight has been set to music for broadcasting. The theme songs, most likely, will be "Pugilacci" and "Hearts and Cauliflowers."

A black opal, worth $25,000, was found in New South Wales recently with the distinct outline of a woman's form imprinted on it. What you might call a very fancy figure.

Fans, we suppose, would be delighted to see umps with mumps.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Wee Clowny eyed the cart and said, "Say, as for me, I think I'd dread to ride around in that thing. I'd be afraid that it would tip. Why, only two wheels seems a fright. It always must be balanced right. I'd always worry 'bout that just enough to spoil my trip."

"Well, well," the Travel Man replied. "That is because you've never tried a wagon of this type. You see, it's all in knowing how. When ever the horse is hitched up tight the whole thing's bound to work all right. Come over to the wagon and I'll give you proof right now."

So, to the wagon they all ran. Then Scouty, to the wagon man, said, "Can we ride your wagon 'round and have a little fun? We'll gladly pay you and, of course, we'll be real patient with your horse." The man replied, "Why, sure!" And 'twas no sooner said than done.

Wee Clowny soon found out that he was just as wrong as he could be in thinking that the wagon would not stand up straight and sound. When everyone had gaily tried his luck and had a dandy ride, the Travel Man said, "Well, let's go. To other spots we're bound."

Real shortly they all heard a toot. A man was blowing on a flute. "Oh, look! He has a cage and it is a parakeet," cried Scouty. Then the whole bunch heard him ask about the pretty bird. The man said, "He tells fortunes and he does it very near."

"You pay a small amount and then the bird will chirp—then chirp again. And then he'll pull a small card from the little box you see. Upon this card your fortune's told, no matter if you're young or old. Now, if you'd like to read your fortune, give a coin to me."

ROBERT SCOTT'S BIRTH

On June 6, 1868, Robert Scott, Arctic explorer, who led an expedition to the South Pole by the longest continuous sledge journey ever made in the polar regions, was born in Devonport, England.

He entered the navy at the age of 14, and first attracted attention as a torpedo lieutenant of the H. M. S. Majestic, where his associations with Arctic explorers led to his future career. In 1901 he was placed in command of an antarctic expedition during which he discovered King Edward VII land and reached a latitude which was then a new "farther south."

Nine years later he set out in command of a new expedition for antarctic discovery. After a sledge journey of 1812 miles Scott reached the South Pole Jan. 18, 1912, five weeks later than Amundsen. He found the latter's Norwegian flag and tent and carried away photographs of them. Some two months later, on the return journey, Scott and his entire party perished.

Four days before he died Scott wrote this famous message to England: "I do not regret this journey, which has shown that Englishmen can endure hardships, help one another, and meet death with as great fortitude as ever in the past. We have been willing to give our lives for this enterprise, which is for the honor of our country."

ACUTE OSTEOMYELITIS
By Walter M. Brickner, M. D.,
New York, N. Y.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Acute osteomyelitis is an infection of a bone, often of several bones simultaneously or in succession, that may occur at any age but is especially one of the tragedies of childhood. The infection is by pus-forming bacteria that enter the system

It Takes More Than Presence of Mind... It Takes GOOD BRAKES

WHEN the car ahead suddenly comes to a dead stop—without warning—you've got to act quickly. But it takes more than presence of mind to meet such a situation. It takes good brakes. In these days of heavy traffic and quick stops, they're an absolute necessity.

If your brakes need attention, let us put them in shape for you. Our shop is an authorized John-Manville Brake Service Station and we are specialists on all sorts of brake troubles. It may be that your brakes require only a simple adjustment—or possibly a new set of J-M Asbestos Lining is necessary to put them in perfect condition. In either case, the job will be done quickly and efficiently.

and, carried through the blood, are deposited in one or more of the long bones. Often the affection is preceded a few days by a mild injury, which probably produces an area of diminished resistance.

At first the child complains only of pain, which the parent or grandparent dismisses as that hoary and absurd thing called "growing pain." Growth is a natural process and causes no pain. Soon, however—and these are the precious hours in which the delay may prove fatal—the parent himself notices what a physician would earlier have detected, that there are some swelling and redness at the painful area and the child is feverish. Often the disease attacks the tibia (the large bone of the leg) and when it starts, as it frequently does, near one end of the swelling appears to the parent to involve the knee or the ankle and he thinks it is "rheumatism" ("Rheumatism" and "neuritis" are common and often incorrect lay explanations for all sorts of pain.)

Don't neglect a child's complaint of pain. Send for your doctor. He is, or should be, trained to recognize an osteomyelitis or to determine, at any rate, whether surgical consultation is necessary. As in appendicitis, so in acute osteomyelitis, early diagnosis and prompt operation are essential to save life. The bone must be opened and the pus drained.

You will readily note that there are two specific but very different reasons for taking your child or yourself to the doctor. One is for a periodic check-up, and each birthday is a good time. That examination is to avoid weaknesses or diseases which develop slowly and should be stopped in their early stages. The other is in the emergency when sudden pain calls for attention. By having a good doctor available for these two needs, and letting him know that you expect him to keep you well, you can safely and fearlessly live all the rest of the time on the top levels of health.

When 60,000 Pounds of Dynamite Went Off

Here's what happened when a cement company blasted the side of a mountain near Salt Lake City, Utah, with 60,000 pounds of dynamite in a single charge, loosening enough carbonate rock to last it for three years. Tons and tons of rock were hurled hundreds of feet into the air, showering over an area of a half mile. CAROLINE ZINKE

Caroline Zinke, wife of Karl Zinke, was born in Germany on November 25, 1861, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Longbein, Sr., who migrated to this country when the daughter was but six months old, and took up their home upon the farm now occupied by John Longbein in Brooklyn township.

Here she grew to womanhood and became acquainted with Karl (Charles) Zinke, then a promising young farmer of the community and their acquaintance grew so strong that they were happily married in 1873, to this union was born four daughters and seven sons as follows: Mrs. Catherine Erbes, John Zinke, Mrs. Eva Fassig, William Zinke, Mrs. Maria Eich, Minnie Barnickel, Henry and George Zinke. Three sons preceded their mother in death, Carl, Adam and Frederick.

After forty-four years of active farm work the couple decided to spend the rest of their days in ease, and sooner than move to town, they built a fine modern residence just across the highway from the homestead where they labored so faithfully and raised their family of children. In this manner they were able to continue pleasant associations with their surrounding children and loyal neighbors.

But not many years were to be spent in such a pleasant manner and the Angel of Death broke up the model home just ten months ago, when He took the husband to his Eternal reward on July 27, 1929. Since that time Mrs. Zinke continued to make her home in the residence until some few weeks ago she felt that she could no longer care for herself and went to the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Barnickel.

It was while at the home of her daughter that she was seized with an illness which caused her death about 4:30 Thursday May 29, 1930.

Funeral services were held from the late home on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 and at the St. Paul Evangelical church at Perkins Grove at 2:00. The little church was filled to its full capacity with friends and former neighbors who gathered to pay their last respects to the kindly mother. The pall bearers were John Fassig, Andrew Hutsch, Chris Zimmerman, John C. Henkel, Charles Kliya and Henry Halboth; these were the same as had been chosen as pall bearers for the late husband ten months ago.

The funeral service was conducted both at the home and at the church by Rev. Bonchnuller and assisted by Rev. Schultz who rendered a very touching sermon in German.

Besides the children mentioned above, the deceased leaves to mourn her passing one sister, Anna Heublen of Hope, Neb., and two brothers Henry and Jacob, and twenty-seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Also a host of friends and neighbors who extend their sympathy to those left behind.

American Gold Star mothers, pilgrims to the battlefields of France where their hero sons were killed in the World War, are pictured here as they arrived on a tender at the Cherbourg pier where French officials were gathered to greet them. These mothers are the first contingent from the United States who will make the trip. Sons of many of them had stepped onto the same pier 13 years ago with the A. E. F.

Women who fall victim to the cigarette habit are stated to be heavier smokers than men; many of them consume up to 200 cigarettes a week. Nurses will find Record Sheets at the B. F. Shaw Printing Co.

NERVOUSNESS AND STOMACH TROUBLES YIELD TO KAVATONE

Stomach Trouble and Nervousness Vanish as Kavatone Exerts its Power.

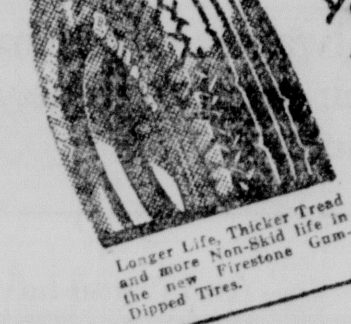

MRS. A. E. COLLIER

"When a medicine will do what Kavatone has done for me I do not hesitate in saying it is worthy of the highest praise," said Mrs. A. E. Collier, of 308 East Third Street, Sterling, Illinois. "After eating I would have terrible gas and indigestion pains, then my stomach would burn like fire. I was so nervous and restless at night that I could hardly sleep."

"I had been reading about Kavatone and decided to try this medicine. As bad as my condition was I felt a change before I had finished the second bottle. It seemed that new life and vigor was flowing through my body. My appetite increased and food did not distress me anymore. I get plenty of good, sound sleep now. Thanks to Kavatone."

Kavatone goes to the very source of those ills and ailments incident to the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels, such as rheumatism, neuritis, constipation, nervousness, and such like ills. Kavatone is sold by all the best druggists in Dixon and in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

PAINT

GOOD PAINT

It is dangerous to buy paint indiscriminately. There is so much "gyp" paint on the markets that the wise householder is apt to make a mistake unless he goes to Paint Headquarters.

We have augmented our Spring supplies of household paints, and even the most inexperienced will suffer no danger if he comes here for his buying.

We are especially interested in not only serving the householder who has odd-jobs for paint, but to painting firms who want paint in wholesale consignments.

CARNERA SENT CHRISTNER TO BED IN FOURTH

Akron Man Gave Giant
Italian His First
Real Contest

Detroit, June 6.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, "The Ambling Alp," is one of the foremost among the heavyweight contenders today by reason of his impressive four round knockout victory over Meyer (KO) Christner of Akron, Ohio, in Floyd Fitzsimmons' arena last night.

After a bad first round, in which Christner sent the crowd of 18,000 wild with a barrage of lefts and rights which the giant Italian could not ward off, Carnera began a systematic attack, directed principally at his opponent's bad left eye. He had the optic badly swelled at the end of the third and set the blood to flowing freely from a cut over it with a brace of left jabs in the early part of the fourth.

Then came a ponderous right to the chin, with one minute and forty seconds to go, and the man whom Sharkey, Risko and Knute Hansen couldn't fell, went down. Not until well after the count of ten was he able to rise.

Primo outweighted the Akronite by 64 pounds, scaling 265 pounds, compared with Christner's meager 201 but it was the superior height and reach of the giant Italian which decided the match. Time and again Carnera held Christner at arm's length and banged him with his free glove.

Christner fought gamely to the end. Eighteen thousand skeptics paid $76,000 to see the fight.

Baseball Gossip

BY UNITED PRESS

Chicago's so-called "crippled" Cubs today moved into Brooklyn for a four-game series against the Brooklyn Robins, with the National League lead at stake. McCarthy's "cripples" have won eight games in a row despite the loss of Pitcher Hal Carlson and Second Baseman Rogers Hornsby, and opened the series only two games behind the league-leading Robins. The Cubs have scored 59 runs in their last four games. Brooklyn's games with the Cubs provides the first serious test for the Robins' flag aspirations.

Hack Wilson and Gabby Hartnett led the attack in the Cubs' 10 to 7 win over the Boston Braves yesterday. Wilson hit his 17th homer of the season and Hartnett's homer drove in three runs.

Captain Glenn Wright returned to the Brooklyn lineup and completed a sensational double play to give the Robins a 6 to 5 victory over Pittsburgh.

The Philadelphia Athletics dropped their first game in 11 starts, but held their one game lead in the American League when the second place Washington Senators lost to Detroit.

Rube Walberg held St. Louis to five hits and one run in 8 innings but weakened in the ninth, and was touched for two singles and a double before being relieved by Jack Quinn. The Robins added three hits off Quinn and won the game, 6 to 5.

Stoner's effective pitching and Sorrell's effective pitching enabled Detroit to defeat Washington, 6 to 2.

Joe Genewich pitched New York to a 7 to 4 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds and the Giants advanced to a tie with Pittsburgh for fourth place.

Cleveland batted around in the first inning before a man was required, and romped to an easy 17 to 7 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The Phillies made 14 hits behind excellent pitching by Hap Colard and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 10 to 4.

The New York Yankees-Chicago White Sox game was halted by rain after two innings of play.

TELEGRAPH WILL SPONSOR SERIES LESSONS IN B. B.

Sheriff Miller, Former Big Leaguer, Will Be Instructor

The Dixon Telegraph will sponsor a school of instruction for boys of Lee county who desire expert advice in the art of playing the great American game of baseball. The course which will consist of four lessons, will be given by Sheriff Ward T. Miller, former big leaguer, member of the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Browns baseball teams.

Few counties in Illinois boast a resident ex-big-leaguer. Sheriff Miller while several years out of baseball, has always manifested a keen interest in the sport and has kept closely in touch with the game since leaving the National League. His interest in the game has prompted The Telegraph to secure his services to conduct the baseball instruction course.

Every boy in Lee county who is desirous of learning the inside of baseball, namely the proper batting stance, running bases, fielding and general deportment on the baseball field will have an opportunity of securing the former big-leaguer's advice by reporting at one of the four centrally located diamonds where instructions will be given. It is proposed to hold the schools in Amboy, Compton, Ashton and Dixon. William Powers, Amboy merchant, will have charge of the registration in that city. In Dixon, it is planned to hold the courses at the high school athletic field and the boys will report to the sporting editor of The Telegraph, Mayor Henry M. Chaon will receive the registrations at Compton.

At No Cost To Boys

The Telegraph school of baseball instruction will be conducted without any charge to the boys who seek instruction in this popular pastime. Sheriff Miller will give of his time to instruct the boys on the inside of baseball as played in the major leagues. Boys with aspirations to become pitchers will receive instruction in this position on the ball field.

It is planned to conduct a course of instruction in each of the four towns once each week. The course extending over four weeks. The exact locations to be used in the instructions and the hours will be announced later. The Telegraph will provide the baseballs and bats for the course and all that the boys entering the course are required to provide, is their own gloves.

Was Fast On Bases

During his many years in the major leagues, Sheriff Miller was a leading base runner and among the top-notchers in the batting averages. He was a specialist at base-stealing and all of this information will be imparted to the boys who participate in this free course of instruction.

"There are many boys in Lee county who are strong for baseball and play the game, but have no opportunity to learn the important features which are most essential in developing a good ball player," Sheriff Miller said today. "Courses of instruction of the kind which are being provided by the Telegraph, have proven very successful throughout the country and there have been many requests for baseball lessons in Lee county. The big leagues depend upon the sandlots for their new material, the future baseball stars of the country and it is my opinion that the Telegraph's baseball school is the best means of developing the boys in this county and I am only too glad to co-operate in giving the boys some idea of how the game is played in the big leagues."

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET HAPPY IN EVERY WAY

"Pioneers" Enjoyed Last Social Affair Of
H. S. Career

By Robert Lesage
The last rites, as far as school parties for the seniors of Dixon high school are concerned, ended with an exceptionally fine junior-senior banquet at the Masonic temple last evening. Due to the union of the north and south sides this last year it proved to be the largest banquet yet to be given.

Starting around 6:30 o'clock the students of both the junior and senior classes indulged in a tasty chicken dinner which was followed by a new and novel program.

The Program
With the fact in view the 1930 seniors are the first to graduate from the new high school, the background of the program was of a pioneer nature. The entertainment was as follows:

A Scoff Rider—Kenneth Moss-holder.

Memories of the Trail—Mary Kennedy, Merna Suter.

A story of the Past—Irma Willey, Mary Clark, Wilson Walker, Edward Nagle.

Around the Evening Blaze—Viola Vague, Dean Ball.

A Yarn—Dorothy Hollingsworth.

Trail Breaker—Supt. I. B. Potter, Homesteader—Winston Smith.

The Lookout—Virginia Hawkins, Joyce Warner, Leona Ott.

The Four Horsemen—Dan Kaufman, Edward Nagle, Edward Finefield, Arthur Tieter.

Pioneers—Dan Kaufman, Settlers—Robert Beach.

End of A Trail—Class of 1930.

Kenneth Moss-holder as toastmaster for the evening proved to be a huge success, with his catching smile and witty talks.

The main address of the evening was presented by Supt. I. B. Potter. He spoke of schools as the reviewing stands, the faculty being the officers. First to pass the officers is the kindergarten, then the first, second and all the other grades in order. Then comes the freshmen in high school and finally the seniors who complete the parade, and if they have performed in a satisfactory manner, are through.

The decorations and program committee deserve much praise for it was only through their splendid work and efficient co-operation that the party proved to be such a success.

The banquet was followed by dancing.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

PATROL MET

The Black Bear Patrol of Troop 89, with Billie Thompson as patrol leader held a very interesting meeting at his home, Thursday afternoon. The patrol has announced its intention of taking up the building of model airplanes as a patrol project during the month of June. All the boys of the patrol are working with one aim in view, and that is to make the Black Bear Patrol the best patrol in the troop.

Today and tomorrow at the Beloit, Wis. Scout Camp, Scout Leaders will assemble for another Seminar. Twenty experts will be present to teach Scouting. Among them will be M. H. Hollingsworth, formerly a Chicago Northwestern Railway Scout Executive, C. C. Charters, Scout Executive of the U. S. Grant Area Council; Earl Rice, Scout Executive of the Beloit Area Council; G. C. Driesbach, Scout Executive of the Blackhawk Area Council; A. R. Carpenter, a Field Executive of the Chicago Council; Fred T. Fultz, a Deputy Commissioner of the Milwaukee County Council; Walter Grebner, Scoutmaster of Troop 90 of Sterling, and A. V. Newman, Field Executive of the Blackhawk Area Council.

The boy is recognized as the important element in the program as an individual, everywhere in city or country, in patrol and troop activities which are the heart of Scouting. To better service this boy, Scout leaders need additional training. Seminars are held for the purpose to train the leaders for effective Troop leadership.

MAN WITH SCAR ON FACE GETS MURDER STORY

As Result Girl and Her Taxicab Sweetheart
Are Under Arrest

New York, June 6.—(AP)—A man with a scar on his face it not necessarily a relative of Alphonse (Scar-face) Capone. He might be a New York detective.

Rose Halperin, 28 years old, had leisure to figure that out today in her cell in Harlem prison where she is held in default of $15,000 bail as a material witness in the killing of Jacob Rothenberg, dress manufacturer, Irving Ashkenas, a taxicab driver, is awaiting trial on a charge of manslaughter, as Rothenberg's assailant.

After the slaying of Rothenberg during a strike riot last February two private detectives followed Miss Halperin to Montreal. Posing as Chicago gangsters they scraped an acquaintance with her and introduced a young man with a scar under his eye to her as "James Capone," a brother of Al Capone.

Yesterday accompanied by Miss Halperin, Capone walked into the office of District Attorney Crain. The man with the scar disclosed himself as Eugene Canaveri, a New York City detective. He said while they were in Montreal Miss Halperin had told him that she had lured Rothenberg to the street corner where he was struck down.

Canaveri said she also told him that she and Ashkenas were in the pay of a garment union. The detective said she boasted of having had a part in the slaying of two other men.

GRAND DETOUR CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sunday School meets at 10 o'clock.
DeWitt Warner, Supt. At two-thirty in the afternoon, the pastor's regular appointment will be kept, with a Pentecost sermon, and the Communion Service.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Minister B. H. C. Weaver
Residence, 217 West Second Street

In keeping with the widespread observance and emphasis on Pentec-cost Sunday of this year, the 1900th anniversary of the wonderful inception of the Completed Gospel, A. D.
30, following Jesus' Resurrection and Ascension, the Dixon Church will participate in the world-around remembrance of this historic event.

Among our own particular church group, following last Sunday's great rain chain-service, today will see an equally important and unique service.

Beginning at 11 A. M. in New Zelland, where are to be found the first of our churches west of the international meridian (their time being the same then at 6:00 P. M., Saturday here), the service of commemoration will move west around the world, concluding with the churches in Honolulu.

The same Scripture (Acts 2), same hymns, and same sermon-subjects will be used. But the greatest unity of ceremony, naturally, will be about the "Lord's Table," in the "Anniversary Communion."

In the Dixon Church, the minister will preach at both services, with an introductory Children's Day play at the evening service. The sermons will be: "The Birth-day of the Church," and "Perpetuating Pentecost." The Bible school will observe Children's Rally Day for Foreign Missions, with aims of 300 in attendance, and $130.00 as the offering to complete the school's quota for the current year, in general missions.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Corner 3rd and Madison
B. C. Whitmore, Pastor

Next Sunday is the Day of Pentecost, the nineteenth hundredth anniversary of the birthday of the Christian Church. It is this institution that has blessed the world more than any other, and is a source of blessing to every person who has come directly or indirectly in contact with the church, and therefore holds a just claim on the life of every normal person. Next Sunday, June 8th, ought to cause each one to think seriously, and if not vitally connected with the work of the Christian Church should by all means do so.

Our Sunday School begins at 10 o'clock. The lesson is, "Jesus in the Shadow of the Cross." That shadow was made for you. Don't you want to know more about it? Come and see. The sermon for the morning service will be, "Pentecost." The evening service begins at 7:00 with the B. Y. P. D., Junior and Senior
C. W. Societies. The evening service at 7:45. You and your friends are cordially invited, and even urged to be with us in worship and praise at all services.

regular Epworth League period at 6 o'clock next Sunday evening. Plans are being made for the annual League Institute which will be held at Franklin Grove Assembly
Grounds from July 6 to 13.

The regular morning hour of worship next Sunday at 10:45 will be given over to the observance of the Lord's Supper. This will not only be the regular quarterly communion service but will also be the nineteen hundredth anniversary of Pentecost. There will be also the introduction of new members. Special music will be furnished. The regular evening hour of worship at be held on Wednesday evening at

The eighth annual institute of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will be held at Franklin Grove Assembly grounds from June 12 to 15. A program of unusual merit has been arranged for these days.
Among those who will be present on the program will be Miss Dorothy Jones, Dr. Hammit, the district superintendent, and the district officers. It is hoped that a good representation will be in attendance from Dixon.

votion of the children by means of

The Daily Pinang Gazette & Straits Chronicle of Penang, Straits Settlements, gives a daily report of police court proceedings. The following is a report of one morning's trials, showing how smoothly the court functions in handing out justice.

The 'pineapple seller' of Carnarvon Street, an aged Chinese, one Chu Ah Kong, told the Magistrate that he had been selling pineapples on the same corner for thirty years and did not see why he should be arrested for obstruction now. In spite of this he was fined two dollars and it was explained that he had been breaking the laws. Thus for the first time in thirty years the particular spot on Carnarvon Street frequented by Chu Ah Kong will be vacant. He has gone away—perhaps to China—never to return.

"Two Tamils who described themselves as 'being friends' were charged with fighting in public in MacAlister Road yesterday. They pleaded no guilty. Alagan, the first accused, said that he was sitting near the gutter drink ing toddy and eating curry when Krishnan, the second accused, came along and stepped on his rice. This led to words. As more words were spoken the crowd became bigger and as still more words were spoken more P. C.'s arrived on the scene and finally both were placed in gaol. No blows were struck they claimed. A fine of one dollar for the first Tamil and two dollars for the second was the judgment.

"A Chinese who immediately admitted that he permitted another to ride on his bicycle at the same time as he was riding on it himself was fined three dollars this morning. The hearing of the case lasted about half a minute and was one of the first of similar cases recently in which the accused Chinese did not offer some excuse. The name of the 'different Chinese' is Tan Guan.

"Charged with theft, one Lee Choo Lim appeared this morning in the Penang Police Court and was given the alternative of fifteen dollars or fifteen days for stealing one grey coat and a pair of trousers to match valued at five dollars. The Magistrate warned Lee that if he was brought into court in the future it would go much harder with him.

"He has a rather ingenious excuse," said the Magistrate when one Loh Mah Cheng, a ricksha puller charged with soliciting for hire, said that he had gone into the Church Street Ghaut Pier to give a European lady a bottle of medicine which she had left in his vehicle, and upon returning he was arrested. A fine of two dollars was the judgment."

ERRORGRAMS

UUBBSR

Always out of the city.

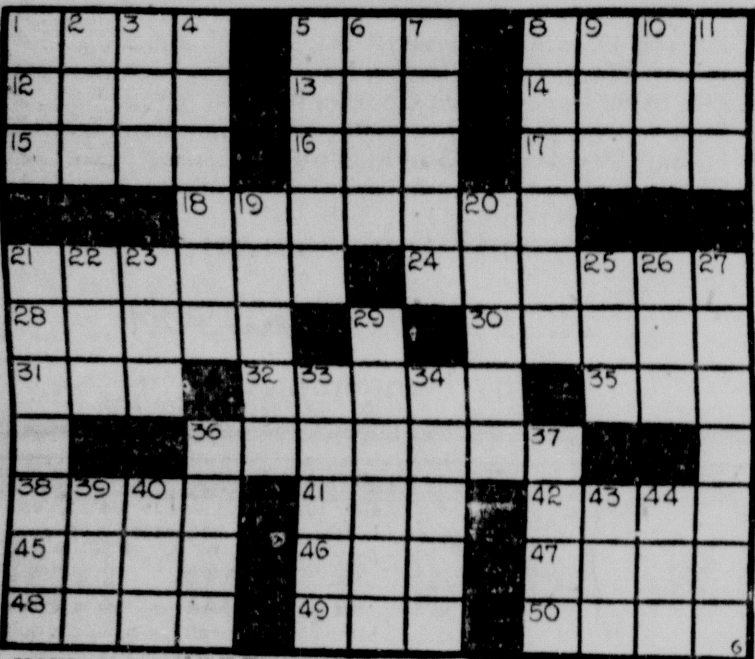

(Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

THURSDAY'S CORRECTIONS

(1) The man needs two games for a set, as he has won but four and a set is six. (2) It is not customary for a girl to play on a tennis court in high-heeled shoes. (3) The end brace, to keep the hand from slipping off, is missing from the girl's racket. (4) The net post should be outside the tennis court. (5) The scrambled word is BIOGRAPHY.

The Husband and Hunter

© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
NATALIE CONVERSE, jealous of her husband's friendship with BERNADINE LAMONT, leaves him. Alan is consoled by his secretary, PHILIPPA WEST, who is seeking to make an advantageous marriage.

Natalie returns, and Alan realizes that he loves her, but the engagement that Phillipa has cleverly engineered prevents him from attempting a reconciliation. Phillipa refuses to release him. Natalie's sister, FLORENCE, backs up his move to bring Alan back to his home. But Alan's chivalrous feeling for Phillipa prevents him still to stand between him and Natalie.

Natalie goes to Alan's office and meets BERNADINE. Her old jealousy flares up again, and she quarrels bitterly with Alan. The next day Natalie comes to the office to plead for forgiveness, but Alan is out. He telephones and Phillipa does not tell him that Natalie is there. Natalie leaves in despair.

Phillipa, fearful Alan's anger will not endure, uses a letter from BERNADINE to lure him back. Natalie, she changes the name of a stock, BERNADINE wants to buy to take him to the office after the order has gone through and disapproved in the letter. Suspicion directed by Phillipa, points to Natalie as the guilty party.

Natalie is so completely overcome by her accusation that she leaves her home and goes to her mother's. She tells her that she is through with Natalie for all time. BERNADINE is overjoyed over her little BOBBY'S future.

Not long after this Alan is kidnapped and taken to her hideout. Her death leaves Alan with Bobby to care for. Alan turns to Phillipa.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XLIII
ALAN telephoned for Phillipa and put her in charge of BERNADINE's home. Natalie made no objection, being overcome with grief, and having an interest only in Bobby.

Phillipa turned the key over to her without interference, though this was against Alan's expressed wish that she herself should look after him. She had small fear of being found out, for Alan was very busy with the many matters that had to be attended to at once. And when he did come to the death-shrouded house she appeared devoted to Bobby.

This was easy for her to do, as Bobby could not be kept away from Alan when he was there. The rest of the time she occupied herself in managing the household in such a way that she was able to satisfy her curiosity in regard to much of BERNADINE's private life.

The dead woman's ultimate personal belongings were so much manna to her greedy spirit. She looked into every closet, chest and drawer, without a shred of compunction.

She was disappointed in the jewels. "No wonder no one troubled to lock the safe," she said to herself over the imitation pearls and semi-precious stones of the costume jewelry.

She knew BERNADINE had had to sacrifice her finest gems but she had expected to find something worth while among what was left after Bobby's.

BUT what was Alan going to do with Bobby?

She answered the telephone call with nervous haste. It was a wrong number call. She was tired from climbing the stairs "day in night." She decided not to go back up to Mrs. Converse until she had mailed the letter. "And anyway," she thought, "why can't she answer the phone herself, with one right there at her elbow?"

Natalie had told the maid to answer all calls downstairs, because she did not expect Alan to telephone, and she could not bear to talk with anyone else.

She heard Ethel go out with her letter—then she relaxed with a sickening weakness closing in on her.

At the end her pride had commanded her—the pride she had sought to rule. She had turned on Alan—flinging his charges back at him and his promise to free him with them, like so much dirt. She was deserting him when she knew he was losing himself in the coils of a serpent woman.

She remembered what her sister Florence had said. She had left Alan alone for months. She had no right to ask what he had done. She should have stayed to fight for him then. Perhaps all this would never have happened. But she had given her enemy a clear field and now she was defeated.

Before Ethel returned from mailing the letter, Natalie was resigned to its reaching Alan. She felt he was hopelessly lost to her. But she waited until she was calmer to write to him, she would not have been so cutting in what she said. She might have left a sweeter memory of herself in his mind. For it was inevitable that in time he should discover the falseness of the woman he had chosen to believe in against her, Natalie, his wife.

She turned her head in a great weariness and closed her eyes. It was done. What did it matter now it had ended? Dragging her pride in the dust would not have changed the ending. Alan belonged to BERNADINE.

Natalie believed this until she read of BERNADINE's death. The event was blazoned to the world on the front pages of the nation's newspapers. For BERNADINE LAMONT was known from coast to coast. Natalie read of the mountain of flowers and the distinguished pallbearers with amazement.

Were all the men as blind as Alan? Had no one seen behind the beautiful glitter of the woman to her soullessness?

She put down the paper and stared across her Aunt Emma's heavily laden breakfast table with an expression on her face that brought a cry of alarm from the pudgy old lady who had just taken a seat opposite her.

"For the land's sake, Natalie, what's the matter with you?"

Natalie hated to be called "Natie," but she endured it from her Aunt Emma, who had offered her a refuge which she had preferred to living at home and burdening her family with her troubles. Florence was happily enjoying her engagement to Andrew Jones. Natalie would not shadow that happiness with her own mournful presence.

"What's the matter?" her aunt repeated impatiently.

"HEY!" the old lady shouted. "Not going back?"

Natalie touched the newspaper. "This," she said, "doesn't make any difference. Alan still believes that I made that change in the letter. He's mentioned there," again she touched the paper; "they were friends; he hadn't found out. I can never prove it to him now."

Aunt Emma finished her biscuit and wiped the butter off her fingers. She would honestly like to have Natalie stay on with her, but she guessed Alan would be wanting her back, and the sooner the better, for Natalie was plainly eating her heart out for him.

"Land's sake, don't be silly," she said matter-of-factly. "The poor man just got himself dazzled, that's all. It happens to the best of 'em. I hear my friends say. It's your duty, Natalie, to go and help him now."

Calmly she reached for another biscuit, and carefully avoided looking at Natalie.

Negro Bank Robber Captured By Posse

Baldwin, Ill., June 5.—(UP)—A Negro bandit who robbed the Baldwin State Bank of $4,000 at opening time today was cornered by a posse later in a stretch of woodland, four miles north of here. The Negro barricaded him self and began a battle with the posse.
Shortly before noon he was captured, after being wounded in the right arm.
Marshal Arthur Hoffman of Baldwin and the posse took the bandit to the county jail for safekeeping. He confessed to the robbery and gave his name as Robert Henderson of Louisiana.
The Negro abandoned a gunny sack containing the loot as he sought to outrun the posse in a chase down the railroad track leading out of town.
The Negro apparently entered the bank during the night. When Assistant Cashier W. P. Ison arrived he was forced to unlock the vault.

Morrow Is Called White House Timber

Trenton, N. J., June 5.—(AP)—A presidential boom for Dwight W. Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico and candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination in New Jersey, has been launched here.
With Mr. Morrow occupying a seat on the platform at a political rally last night, Edward C. Stokes, former Governor of New Jersey, and Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University, advanced his name as a White House possibility.
"Mr. Morrow," said Mr. Stokes, "is not only worthy to have a seat in the United States Senate; Ambassador Morrow is presidential timber."
"I know that I am treading on delicate ground. At Atlantic City the other day he disavowed being a candidate. I don't think he has anything to do with that question. No man in this country is big enough or great enough to decline a call to the presidency."

Dr. Hibben, in opening his address, said:
"I wish to add that if the Ambassador should become the President of our country—which is not a wild flight of the imagination—we are going to claim part of him for Princeton for while he is not a graduate of Princeton, we have done the next best thing by adopting him, for we made him a Doctor of Laws a few years ago."

The old Polish state was a monarchy, but in the fifteenth century Poland developed representative institutions, so that she became one of the three European nations which first adopted the system of legislation by representation.

GLY-CAS ONLY ONE TO END STABBING NEURITIS PAINS

Muncie Lady's Suffering was Almost Unbearable—Now Entirely Relieved by Gly-Cas.

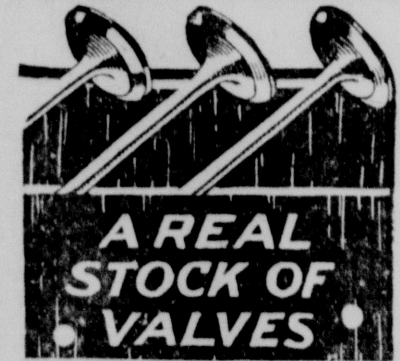

"Gly-Cas completely relieved me of my suffering from neuritis after medical authorities and medicines of all kinds had failed in my case." Mrs. Lizzie Hammer, 1604 East First St., Muncie, Indiana.

MRS. LIZZIE HAMMER

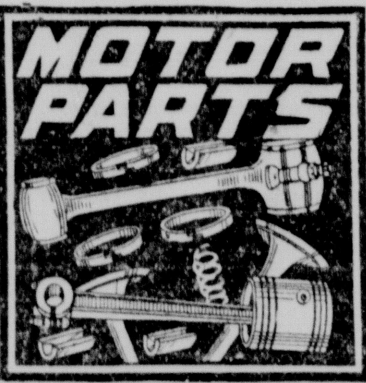

"For the past year I have suffered from neuritis in my shoulder, hand and extending down into my right foot, such pain as I endured for days at a time was almost unbearable. The pain actually felt like a knife stabbing me. My hand would swell so I could hardly use it, the pain in the back of my head was so severe it nearly crazed me. I tried everything without any help until I began taking Gly-Cas and it was only a few days after I started until I knew at last I had found the one medicine that actually reached my case and now I am free from those awful stabbing pains of neuritis all over my body, the swelling has left my hand and I am in good health again, thanks to Gly-Cas. Anyone suffering as I did should not fail to try Gly-Cas as it really accomplishes what it claims."

Gly-Cas is scientifically compounded to actually reach the most severe cases of stomach, liver, kidney, bowel troubles, rheumatism, neuritis, Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon by Campbell's White Cross Drug Store, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—ADV.
